Celebrate Colorado Agriculture
with a Great Game-Day Barbecue Tradition!
Saturday, Sept. 5, 2015 • Barbecue served 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m. • Football kickoff 2 p.m.

A g Day is a fall tradition in its 34th year – a barbecue that draws hundreds of Colorado State University students, alumni, and friends who enjoy our state’s tasty offerings, followed by CSU football. Each year, we celebrate Colorado's rich agricultural heritage with food from the state’s leading commodity groups. Proceeds fund scholarships for CSU students in agricultural sciences. Since 2000, Ag Day has funded more than 188 scholarships totaling nearly $350,000 for College of Agricultural Sciences students. So pull up a straw bale under our famed Aggie “A,” and savor a feast of Colorado beef, pork, lamb, potatoes, beans, wheat and dairy products, and soft drinks. Beer available for purchase with ID.

Ag Day Activities Include:
• Farm-themed fun for kids
• Farm displays
• CSU agricultural student groups
• Live music
