

Agricultural and Resource Economics & Economics Department

Graduate Research Symposium

Clark Building C, Room 307 February 11, 2011

8:45am Introduction

Proposals

9:00am Do Perceptions Create (or Mitigate) Coordination Problems – An Examination of a Laboratory Parking Congestion Experiment, Nick Janusch, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

9:20 am Environmental Impact of a Product as Product Differentiation Strategy, Oana Deselnicu, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

9:40 am Valuing Rock Climbing Access in the Auburn Limestone Quarry, Kevin Kasberg, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

10:00 am U.S. Carbon Intensity of Consumption: Income Inequality and Emulation Effects, Anthony Underwood, Department of Economics, Colorado State University

10:20 am Break

In Progress:

10:40 am Policies versus Perception: Estimating the Impact of Drought Awareness on Consumer Water Demand, Janine Stone, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

11:00 am SCHIP and the Labor Supply of Women, Aanston Frazier, Department of Economics, Colorado State University

11:20 am Do Public Outdoor Recreation Opportunities Crowd-Out Private Opportunities? Spatial-Econometric Analysis of the Attraction/Repulsion of Private Recreation Provision to Public Provision, Rebecca Goldbach, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

11:40 am The U.S. Renewable Fuel Standard: Impacts from Cellulosic Biofuel Production, Sam Evans, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

12:00 pm Lunch

1:00 pm A Look at Boundary Discontinuity in a Local School District, Larry Chisesi, Department of Economics, Colorado State University

- 1:20 pm The Surplus Horse Problem, Amelia Maass, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University
- 1:40 pm Rural Prosperity Initiative: Propensity Score Analysis of Income and Crop Production Effects from a Comprehensive Micro-irrigation Program in Zambia, Chris Nicoletti, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University
- 2:00 pm Welfare Impacts of Segregating Local Produce in Food Markets: A Study on Colorado Apple, Wenjing Hu, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University
- 2:20 pm Break
- 2:40 pm Creating Awareness and Stimulating Consumption of Fresh Local Fruits Among Expatriates in Malaysia, Chubashini Suntharalingam, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University

Proposal

- 3:00 pm Peer Effects and Obesity: Do Migrants Adopt the Health Lifestyles of Their Destinations, Ian Breunig, Department of Economics, Colorado State University

Near Completion

- 3:20 pm The Economic Significance of Bioeconomic Feedback Loops: Using the Random Utility Model to Inform a Bioeconomic Model of Fish Stocking, Daniel Deisenroth, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, Colorado State University
- 4:00 pm Judges' Meeting and Results Announced