

Fall 2006 Seminar Series

CSU Dept of Agricultural and Resource Economics & Dept of Economics
U.S. Forest Service Rocky Mountain Research Station

When: Monday 12-1pm Where: C358 Clark Pizza & Soda Served

Sept 18

Spatial Dependence in Hedonic Property Models: Do Different Corrections for Spatial Dependence Result in Economically Significant Differences in Estimated Implicit Prices?
Speaker: Julie Mueller, Colorado State University

Sept 25

Econometric Models of Water Market Prices
Speaker: Bonnie Colby, University of Arizona

Oct 2nd

Does Wildfire Risk Affect House Prices in Southern Colorado? A Hedonic Property Study
Speaker: Patty Champ, U.S. Forest Service

Oct 9th

Household Level Scanner Data Analysis of the Effects of State Dependence and Preference Heterogeneity in Consumers' Organic versus Conventional Fresh Produce Choices
Speaker: Yuko Onozaka, Colorado State University

Oct 16th

Balancing Recreational Instream Flows and other Competing Uses of Water: The Key to the Compromise
Speaker: Kathleen Curry, Colorado House Member

Oct 23rd

Conservation Easement Markets: What Do Buyers and Sellers Think?
Speakers: Catherine Keske and Dana Hoag, Colorado State University

Oct 30th

A New Approach to Valuing Local Recreation Using Visitors' Time Allocations
Speaker: John Loomis, Colorado State University

Nov 6th

Reluctant Recyclers: Social Interaction in Responsibility Ascription
Speaker: Gorm Kipperberg, Colorado State University

Nov 13th

The Economics of Cruise Ship Tourism in Belize
Speaker: Andy Seidl, Colorado State University

Seminar Series Supported by the MAC Foundation