

Spring 2009 Wednesday Lunch Seminar Series

Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics & Department of Economics, US Forest Service
Rocky Mountain Research Station, NSF

When: 12-1pm Where: CHEMISTRY B202

Wednesday, February 4

Risk Navigator SRM: A Ten-Step Program for Risk Management in Agriculture.

Speaker: Dana Hoag, Colorado State University

Wednesday, February 11

Is Economics for the Birds?

Speaker: Aaron Strong, Department of Economics, University of Wyoming

Wednesday, February 18

Designing Feasible Pigouvian Taxes: Trust, Misperceptions and Earmarking.

Speaker: Steffen Kallbekken, Center for International Climate and Environmental Research, Oslo, Norway.

Wednesday, February 25

Environmental Regulation and Plant Location Decisions

Speaker: Scott Holladay, Dept. of Economics, University of Colorado, Boulder

Wednesday, March 4

Ethiopia: Climate Change Impacts and Implications for Development Strategy

Speaker: Channing Arndt, Department of Economics, University of Copenhagen

Wednesday, March 11

The Political Economy of Agricultural Biotechnology Policy in Europe and Developing Countries

Speaker: Greg Graff, Colorado State University

Wednesday, March 25

Exploring Consumer Intentions When Buying Local and Organic Foods

Speakers: Dawn Thilmany and Gretchen Nurse, Colorado State University

Wednesday, April 1

Optimal Harvesting of Big Game When Harvest Success is Uncertain

Speaker: John Tschirhart, Dept. of Economics, University of Wyoming

Wednesday, April 8

Reluctance to Trade: Loss Aversion, Status Quo Bias, or Ambivalence?

Speaker: Tom Brown, Rocky Mountain Research Station, U.S. Forest Service

Wednesday, April 15

Benefits and Costs of Individual Animal Identification Systems

Speaker: Dustin Pendell, Colorado State University

Wednesday, April 22

Incorporating the Cost of Smoke into Strategic Wildland Fire Management

Speakers: Douglas Rideout and Yu Wei, Forestry, Range and Watershed Stewardship, Colorado State University

Wednesday, April 29

Uncertainty and the Safe Minimum Standard: An Experiment with Species Preservation

Speaker: Douglass Shaw, Texas A&M

Seminar Coordinator

Dr. John Loomis